Forecast For Highland & Eilean Siar
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Thursday 12 Aug 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
A bright morning but showery in the afternoon, becoming windy.

Today:
A mainly dry and bright start with sunny spells. A scattering of showers developing, these becoming heavier and more widespread by the evening, perhaps a rumble of thunder in places, especially around Lochaber. Becoming windy, coastal gales in west. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Tonight:
Remaining windy overnight, especially for the Hebrides. The heavy blustery showers at times will make it feel more like Autumn than Summer. Minimum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Friday:
A very blustery day with frequent showers and strong winds. A few brighter interludes at times but these not lasting too long. Maximum temperature 18 deg C (64 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Winds turning northerly on Saturday and still blustery with showers, feeling cooler. Winds easing later on Saturday with a brighter evening. Sunday and Monday mainly dry, some showers in north.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.